Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to submit my name for consideration for the Software Engineering internship program at your company. I believe my experience makes me an ideal candidate for the position.

During my two years at University, I have created several front-end and back-end web applications and projects that make use of best practices. For instance, earlier this semester I built an Online Home Services providing application. I reinforced my skills in designing wireframes, building full-stack applications, and evaluating my work.

I believe that I would be an asset to your team. This internship would give me an opportunity to both assist your business and expand my skills in software Engineering through working in a professional development environment.

Thank you for your time, consideration and for your future response.

Sincerely,
Madushan S.H.K
